NOTAS BIOGRÁFICAS

Ian Larson (EEUU, 1980) acaba de ser seleccionado por el influyente coleccionista Charles Saatchi como uno de las veinte jóvenes promesas más importantes de su generación. El canal de televisión Channel 4 (Reino Unido) está realizando un reportaje sobre su obra, que será expuesta próximamente en Frieze Art Fair de Londres, una de las ferias de arte más importantes. Antes incluso de haber completado sus estudios, Ian fue elegido uno de los Bloomberg New Contemporaries 2007, exposición itinerante que cada año comisaria una exposición que recoge a los artistas más prometedores a punto de completar sus estudios académicos.

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTES

Ian Daniel Larson (1980, USA), a Slade graduate, was one of twenty artists selected by Charles Saatchi as the best up and coming talents to be graduating in 2007. Channel 4 (UK) will be producing a short documentary on his work, while some of the artists production will be on show during Frieze Art Fair in October 2007. Prior to being selected as finalist in the Saatchi/Stuart project, Ian was selected as one of the Bloomberg 2008 New Contemporaries.

IAN LARSON

Artist Statement

My work reverberates personal interests and creates narratives that exist as their own social context. Within these narrative environments exists characters' that often confuse the idea of good and evil or completely disregard them. Created with varied complexity as well as an almost abandoned aesthetic through the application of paint, collaged images, the use of symbols and the abstraction of the figure itself.
